CCSI Provides Network Infrastructure to Non-profit ISF New Facility

Bohemia, NY, November 26, 2017 – Contemporary Computer Services Inc. (CCSI), a leading provider of technology services and solutions based in Bohemia, NY is proud to provide network infrastructure and camera integration to non-profit Inclusive Sports Fitness (ISF) new facility located in Holbrook, NY.

The mission of ISF is to provide inclusive sports and fitness activities opportunities for children. Inclusive Sports is a program that utilizes mentoring and the science-based principles inherent in the sports to foster positive personal, social, and physical growth and development.

CCSI understands the importance of community involvement especially for child development and supports ISF's mission of inclusive sports and fitness for all children. CCSI was informed that ISF was locating to a new facility and offered assistance with their network infrastructure and camera installment requirements.

CCSI with our key partners Axis Communications, Cisco, and Fortinet were able to provide to ISF a fully cabled network facility, Fortinet UTM firewall, Axis video surveillance cameras and a network video recorder, and a Cisco Meraki switch and 3 access points. "We are grateful for the generous donation and excellent work provided by CCSI and their partners to have our new facilities IT requirements and camera security operational," said Alexander Lopez, founder and executive director of ISF. "ISF can focus on its mission from day one, rather than worry about network and camera installations." ISF will have their grand opening on November 30 with a fully functional network and camera system to hit the ground running.
