

Security & Risk Assessments

Shed Light on the Risks in Your Organization

You don't know, what you don't know.

Understanding your weakness before you're attacked is an important step in defending your network and data. CCSI considered this a proactive approach for organizations to deal with the threats in their environment. By testing your cybersecurity program to search for areas of improvement hardens your security posture and gives you a road map and baseline of maturity to guide your program.

Whether a small company looking to get started or a large organization with a cybersecurity program already in place our assessments can be broken down into multiple areas of assistance. Through our assessments we can manage the entire process or be brought in to assist with just one section of the review. Our experience as a managed security service provider allows us a unique approach to assisting our clients during these engagements.

With an understanding of where your risks lie gives you a compressive road map on where to focus your efforts in defending against threats and improving your security posture. We work with your organization to understand your specific business requirement and translate our findings into clear recommendations to remediate the risks in your organization. Once policies are in place, CCSI can also perform Incident Response Tabletop Exercises to prepare your organization.

CCSI performs the following security assessments to help shed light on areas of your security program and works as an experienced partner to advise on planning the next steps to securing your organization.
